INTRODUCTION 1

BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY 2

SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT TERMS 3

LEGAL STANDARD 5

ARGUMENT 6

I. The Court will be able to approve the settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate. 6

 A. Class Counsel and the Settlement Class Representatives Have Adequately Represented the Class. 6

 B. The Settlements Are the Result of Arm’s Length Negotiations. 7

 C. The Relief for the Class is Substantial. 8

 1. The settlement relief outweighs the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal. 8

 2. Settlement Class Members will obtain relief through a straightforward claims process. 10

 3. The terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including timing of payment, will be reasonable. 11

 D. The Proposal Treats Class Members Equitably Relative to Each Other. 11

II. The Court will be able to certify the Class for settlement purposes upon final approval. 12

 A. The Settlement Class Meets Rule 23(a)’s Requirements. 12

 B. The Settlement Class Meets Rule 23(b)(3)’s Requirements. 16

III. The proposed notice plan should be approved. 18

INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs are pleased to present three additional settlements for preliminary approval by 3 this Court and for the Court's approval to issue notice to the Settlement Class of the settlements.
4 These settlements – one with The Kroger Co. (“Kroger”), one with Safeway Inc. and Albertsons
5 Companies Inc. (“Safeway/Albertsons”), and one with Hawaiian Isles Coffee Co. Ltd. (“HIKC”) – 6 – follow eight prior settlements previously approved by this Court and successfully implemented 7 by Class Counsel. These three agreements bring the total monetary relief obtained from settling 8 defendants to over $15.25 million, and, like the prior settlements, deliver additional injunctive 9 relief that exceeds what Plaintiffs could have achieved through litigation. Those injunctive 10 terms, which remarkably include, for one defendant, a name change, continue to deliver on 11 Plaintiffs' goals for this litigation – improved and clearer labeling practices of Kona coffee.
12 These settlements also reflect the class representatives' and Class Counsel's commitment to 13 delivering these benefits efficiently and as quickly as possible; only four defendants now remain 14 in a case that has included more than twenty.

15 This Court has previously assessed the propriety of preliminary approval and the issuance 16 of notice as to multiple defendants and settlements in this litigation. Those prior settlements 17 were on behalf of the identical class of Kona coffee farmers, involved the same claims, the same 18 allegations, and were structured substantially identically as the ones that are now before the 19 Court. Just as the Court previously found as to those prior settlements, Plaintiffs respectfully 20 submit that the Court is likely to certify the proposed class for settlement purposes and approve 21 these settlements after notice and a final approval hearing. Like the previously approved 22 settlements, these settlements will deliver a substantial monetary payment to class members and 23 also provide for valuable injunctive relief that will benefit the members of the settlement class 24 and prevent future economic harm. Accordingly, the settlements satisfy Rule 23(e)'s standard 25 for preliminary approval, and the Court may approve the issuance of notice to the class and set a 26 schedule for final approval.

BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

2 In their two previous motions for preliminary approval (Dkt. 393, 411), Plaintiffs set 3 forth the relevant background to their motions, and do so again here for completeness of the 4 record and with updates through the filing of this motion.

5 Plaintiffs are coffee farmers in the Kona region of Hawaii, and along with members of 6 the proposed Settlement Class, grow the entire worldwide supply of Kona coffee. Plaintiffs filed 7 their initial complaint on February 27, 2019, alleging that Defendants, who are both suppliers 8 and retailers of coffee, violated the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125, by misleadingly labeling and 9 selling coffee not from the Kona region as “Kona” coffee. The complaint included the results of 10 an extraordinary pre-filing investigation that included scientific testing to confirm that the coffee 11 marketed and sold by Defendants as “Kona” coffee in fact contained little or no such coffee.

12 A group of retailer defendants and a group of supplier defendants filed motions to 13 dismiss; Defendant BCC Assets, LLC (“BCC”) filed a separate motion to dismiss. See Dkt. Nos.
14 100, 106, & 107, respectively. On November 12, 2019, the Court denied the suppliers’ and 15 BCC’s motions in full, and denied the retailers’ motion in part, dismissing only false advertising 16 claims against the retailers. See Dkt. Nos. 154-56. Discovery then commenced, and continues at 17 present as to the non-settling defendants. Plaintiffs filed their class certification motion against 18 those non-settling defendants on December 22, 2021, which followed a motion for default 19 against defendant Mulvadi Corporation (Dkt. 544) on November 23, 2021. Fact discovery will 20 close on March 11, 2022.

21 As those recent motions reflect, the parties have litigated the case intensively. The 22 parties served dozens of document requests, interrogatories, and requests for admission, and 23 produced tens of thousands of documents. This Court resolved numerous discovery disputes 24 involving the scope of document production and depositions. See Dkt. Nos. 144, 248, 255, 266, 25 274, 341, 350, 362, 382, 470, 477, 487, 578. Defendants took the depositions of the five named 26 plaintiffs during the week of August 17, 2020. Plaintiffs have taken or participated in nine

1 depositions of parties and non-parties to date (plus noting and appearing for two depositions in 2 which a third party failed to appear), as well as taken two expert depositions.

3 As Plaintiffs described in their motion for preliminary approval of the first set of 4 settlements (Dkt. 393), there have been parallel efforts at resolution as the parties litigated the 5 case. Those efforts, which led to the separately negotiated settlements previously presented to the 6 Court, included Safeway/Albertsons, Kroger, and HIKC. First, in the spring of 2020, the parties 7 agreed to a brief pause in most discovery activity to engage in a near-global mediation with Hon.
8 Edward Infante on June 2, 2020. See Declaration of Jason L. Lichtman (“Lichtman Decl.”) ¶ 6.
9 Plaintiffs and Kroger did not reach a settlement at that mediation and returned to active litigation 10 until a second mediation with Mark LeHocky, of ADR Services, Inc. on May 3, 2021, followed 11 by continuous discussions between counsel, much of them focused on understanding and 12 confirming Kroger’s sales volumes of the at-issue coffee, and then a third mediation on August 13 11, 2021, at which time they were able to reach an agreement. Id. ¶ 8.

14 Safeway/Albertsons participated in the mediation with Judge Infante, and then negotiated 15 separately with Class Counsel during the spring and summer of 2021, ultimately leading to an 16 agreement in August 2021.

17 As for HIKC, following the unsuccessful mediation with Judge Infante, counsel for both 18 parties explored potential resolution throughout the remainder of 2020 and 2021, with much of 19 those negotiations focused on verifying HIKC’s representations of its financial condition, which 20 affected the company’s ability to pay. Id. ¶ 10. The parties ultimately reached an agreement in 21 principle in October 2021.

22 SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT TERMS

23 Like the previous settlements, these settlements¹ deliver substantial monetary relief to the 24 Settlement Class and include injunctive terms that will continue to change the marketplace: each 25 of the settlements includes changes in the labeling of coffee described as containing coffee from 26

¹ The proposed settlement agreements are attached as Exhibits 1-3 to the accompanying Lichtman Declaration.

1 the Kona region, thus preventing further economic harm to the growers of legitimate Kona 2 coffee. The HIKC settlement goes further, with the company agreeing to change its name to 3 remove the word “Kona” altogether.

4 The Kroger settlement includes both monetary and injunctive terms. First, Kroger will 5 pay $1,350,000. It will also now be subject to labeling obligations for the coffee that it sells 6 either under its own name or any brand name that it wholly owns and that is labeled as “Kona 7 coffee” or “Kona Blend.” Those products will state on the front of the product’s label the 8 minimum percentage (or the percentage) of Kona coffee beans contained in the product using the 9 same font type and same (or similar) color as the word Kona, and no smaller than one-half (1/2) 10 the size as the word “Kona” appears, on the front of the package. Exh. 1 ¶ 13. The injunctive 11 terms of Kroger’s settlement compound the benefits of the agreements of the previously settling 12 defendants that increase and improve the information found on Kona-labeled products in the 13 marketplace.

14 The injunctive terms in the Safeway/Albertsons agreement also reinforce the labeling 15 changes that numerous settling suppliers and retailers have already agreed to and have already 16 begun to implement. Safeway/Albertsons agrees to sell coffee labeled as “Kona” or “Kona 17 blend” only if certain labeling standards are met, and will require its vendors to certify that its 18 Kona-labeled products will meet such standards, ensuring that the labeling information is clear 19 and conspicuous. See Exh. 2 ¶ 13. It agrees that “any coffee product labeled as ‘Kona coffee’ or 20 ‘Kona Blend coffee’ will state on the front of the product’s label the minimum percentage (or 21 percentage) of Kona coffee beans the supplier of the products states is contained in the Kona 22 Coffee Product using the same font type and same (or similar) color as the word Kona and no 23 smaller than one-half (1/2) the size as the word ‘Kona’ appears, on the front of the package.” Id.

24 HIKC will pay $800,000. The non-monetary terms of the HIKC settlement are 25 extraordinary. First, it will change its company name to remove the word “Kona.” Exh. 3 ¶ 26 12(c). Second, it will, like previously settling defendants, alter its labeling of Kona-labeled

1 coffee so that such products “will accurately and unambiguously state on the front label of the 2 product the minimum percentage of authentic Kona coffee beans contained in the product using 3 the same font type and same (or similar) color as the word Kona, and no smaller than one-half 4 (1/2) the size as the word “Kona” appears, on the front of the package.” Exh. 3 ¶ 12(a). The 5 agreements clarifies, “Only Kona coffee certified and graded by the Hawaii Department of 6 Agriculture as 100% Kona shall be considered authentic Kona coffee.” Id. HIKC also agrees 7 “to use at least the percentage of Kona coffee required by Hawaiian law, or as may be required 8 by Hawaii law in the future, in any product labeled as “Kona’ or “Kona Blend.”” Id. ¶ 12(b).
9 Finally, it will send a special communication to its subscriber list, explaining the difference 10 between 100 percent Kona coffee and Kona blend coffees, and that HIKC’s current offerings are 11 Kona blends and not 100 percent Kona coffee. Id. ¶ 13.

12 LEGAL STANDARD

13 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e) provides that class actions “may be settled ... only 14 with the court’s approval.” Rule 23(e) governs a district court’s analysis of the fairness of a 15 proposed class action settlement and creates a multistep process for approval. First, a court must 16 determine that it is likely to (i) approve the proposed settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate, 17 after considering the factors outlined in Rule 23(e)(2), and (ii) certify the settlement class after 18 the final approval hearing. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)(B). Second, a court must direct notice to 19 the proposed settlement class, describing the terms of the proposed settlement and the definition 20 of the proposed class, to give them an opportunity to object to or to opt out of the proposed 21 settlement. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B); Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1), (5). Third, after a hearing, 22 the court may grant final approval of the proposed settlement on a finding that the settlement is 23 fair, reasonable, and adequate, and certify the settlement class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2).

24 Through this motion, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court set in motion the first 25 two steps of this three-part process: provide preliminary approval of the settlements, and 26 approval of the issuance of notice to the class.

1 ARGUMENT

2 I. The Court will be able to approve the settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate.

3 The December 1, 2018 amendments to Rule 23 “provide new guidance on the ‘fair, 4 adequate, and reasonable’ standard at the preliminary approval stage.” O’Connor v. Uber Techs., 5 Inc., No. 13-03826, 2019 WL 1437101, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 29, 2019). Even after the 6 amendments, fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy remain the “touchstones” for approval of a 7 class action settlement. Zamora Jordan v. Nationstar Mortg., LLC, No. 2:14-CV-0175-TOR, 8 2019 WL 1966112, at *2 (E.D. Wash. May 2, 2019). The amendments served “to focus the 9 court and the lawyers on the core concerns of procedure and substance that should guide the 10 decision whether to approve the proposal.” Id. (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 advisory committee’s 11 note to 2018 amendments).

12 Under the amended rule, a court is to preliminarily approve the settlement and direct 13 notice to the class if it finds that the court “is likely to approve the proposal under Rule 14 23(e)(2).” Rule 23(e)(2) contains the “core concerns of procedure and substance” that guide this 15 inquiry. Just as the previous settlements did, these settlements readily satisfy the criteria for 16 preliminary approval.

17 A. Class Counsel and the Settlement Class Representatives Have Adequately 18 Represented the Class.

19 Under Rule 23(e)(2), the Court first considers whether counsel for the class, as well as 20 the class representatives, adequately represent the class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(A). This 21 requirement is met. Class Counsel have zealously advanced the interests of the Plaintiffs and the 22 proposed Settlement Class. Following an extensive pre-filing investigation, they defeated 23 motions to dismiss by the retailer defendants and the supplier defendants, and took on the 24 daunting logistical task of pursuing discovery against over twenty defendants and from numerous 25 third parties. These efforts put Plaintiffs and the Class in a position to negotiate the prior sets of 26 settlements with the help of experienced mediators, leading to these Settlements.

1 As explained in previous motions for preliminary approval, the class representatives have 2 worked tirelessly on behalf of Settlement Class members, and more than meet this standard.
3 They have worked closely with proposed Class Counsel at every stage of this litigation, 4 answered dozens of written discovery requests, produced thousands of documents, sat for day-5 long depositions, personally participated in each of the mediations conducted so far, and 6 continue to monitor and participate actively in both the claims process relating to the prior 7 settlements and ongoing litigation against the remaining defendants. Each Plaintiff runs a small 8 coffee farm, and amidst the challenges of the global pandemic, have unflaggingly devoted their 9 time, along with expertise and experience as Kona farmers, to help Class Counsel move this 10 litigation in a positive direction for the Settlement Class.

11 B. The Settlements Are the Result of Arm’s Length Negotiations.

12 To grant final approval, this Court will determine if the proposed settlements were 13 negotiated at arm’s length. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(B). This Court is likely to so find here.
14 Settlements reached after a supervised mediation are entitled to a presumption of reasonableness 15 and the absence of collusion. 2 McLaughlin on Class Actions, § 6:7 (8th ed. 2011); see also 16 Sandoval v. Tharaldson Emp. Mgmt., Inc., No. 08-482, 2010 WL 2486346, at *6 (C.D. Cal. June 17 15, 2010) (“The assistance of an experienced mediator in the settlement process confirms that the 18 settlement is non-collusive”); Free Range Content, Inc. v. Google, LLC, No. 14-CV-02329-BLF, 19 2019 WL 1299504, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 21, 2019) (holding that a “presumption of correctness” 20 attaches where, as here, a “class settlement [was] reached in arm’s-length negotiations between 21 experienced capable counsel after meaningful discovery”).

22 Here, proposed Settlement Class Counsel negotiated these settlements only after 23 conducting discovery, and obtaining sales and other pertinent data as to each of the defendants, 24 as well as extensively investigating HIKC’s ability to pay a reasonable settlement. Where 25 extensive information has been exchanged, “[a] court may assume that the parties have a good 26 understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of their respective cases and hence that the 1 settlement’s value is based upon such adequate information.” William B. Rubenstein, et al., 4 2 Newberg on Class Actions § 13:49 (5th ed. 2012) (“Newberg”); see also In re Anthem, Inc. Data

 3 Breach Litig., 327 F.R.D. 299, 320 (N.D. Cal. 2018) (concluding that the “extent of discovery” 4 and factual investigation undertaken by the parties gave them “a good sense of the strength and 5 weaknesses of their respective cases in order to ‘make an informed decision about settlement’” 6 (citing In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 459 (9th Cir. 2000)).

7 Further, there is no evidence of fraud or collusion in arriving at resolution. Only after 8 pertinent discovery and the meaningful exchange of information did the parties participate in 9 mediation; subsequent negotiations were protracted as to each of the settling defendants.
 10 Plaintiffs continued to litigate against these settling defendants after the first and then second set 11 of settlements was negotiated, and have shown their willingness to continue with highly 12 contested litigation with all remaining defendants.

13 C. The Relief for the Class is Substantial.

14 Next, Rule 23(e)(2)(C) asks whether the relief provided for the class is “adequate,” taking 15 into account: “(i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal; (ii) the effectiveness of any 16 proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including the method of processing class-17 member claims; (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including timing of 18 payment; and (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23(e).” Fed. R. Civ. P.
 19 23(e)(2)(C). Here, the proposed settlements provide significant monetary relief and important 20 injunctive relief to the Class.

21 1. The settlement relief outweighs the costs, risks, and delay of trial and 22 appeal.

23 The settlements provide significant monetary and injunctive relief to the proposed 24 Settlement Class, and avoid the hurdles and delays associated with litigating class certification 25 and potential interlocutory appeals, dispositive motions, trial, and appeals. See Munday v. Navy 26 Fed. Credit Union, No. 15-1629, 2016 WL 7655807, at *8 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 15, 2016) (granting

1 preliminary approval of class action settlement). The Settlements account for these risks, costs, 2 and delays, and accordingly compensate Settlement Class Members for their past harm, and 3 prevent future harm by requiring Kroger and HIKC to join the other settling defendants in 4 changing their practices going forward if they choose to sell such products, and as to 5 Safeway/Albertsons, agreeing to sell coffee labeled as “Kona coffee” or “Kona blend coffee” 6 only if labeling requirements are met, and requiring its current and future suppliers to certify that 7 those standards are met. While Plaintiffs believe in the merits of their case, success at class 8 certification, summary judgment, and trial is not guaranteed. And any trial victory would come 9 only after the COVID-related backlog is cleared, and would be subject to years of appeals.

10 The immediate relief provided by the Settlements outweighs these risks. That immediate 11 relief weighs even more heavily here as to HIKC, given its financial distress, which has been 12 exacerbated by the pandemic and travel restrictions. See Lane v. Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d 811, 13 823–24 (9th Cir. 2012) (affirming trial court did not abuse its discretion in concluding that class 14 settlement was substantial in light of the fact that a defendant was on the verge of bankruptcy 15 when evaluating the risks of continued litigation of meritorious claims); Torrisi v. Tucson Elec.
16 Power Co., 8 F.3d 1370, 1376 (9th Cir. 1993) (holding trial court acted within its discretion 17 when considering the precarious financial status of the defendant to determine the adequacy of 18 the settlement); In re Washington Public Power Supply Sys. Securs. Litig., 720 F. Supp. 2d.
19 1379, 1395–6 (D. Ariz. 1989) (finding the terms of a class agreement with the smallest 20 defendants in a multiparty MDL were fair, reasonable, and adequate where the defendants did 21 not have assets Plaintiffs could obtain “without precipitating virtually certain bankruptcy 22 proceedings” for the defendants). In other words, as one court has put it in approving a class 23 settlement, “[a] very large bird in the hand in this litigation is surely worth more than whatever 24 birds are lurking in the bushes.” In re Chambers Dev. Sec. Litig., 912 F. Supp. 822, 838 (W.D.
25 Pa. 1995).

1 2. Settlement Class Members will obtain relief through a 2 straightforward claims process.

3 “[T]he effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including 4 the method of processing class-member claims,” is also a relevant factor in determining the 5 adequacy of relief. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(C)(ii). This factor is intended to encourage courts to 6 evaluate a proposed claims process “to ensure that it facilitates filing legitimate claims. A claims 7 processing method should deter or defeat unjustified claims, but the court should be alert to 8 whether the claims process is unduly demanding.” Id. Advisory Committee’s note to 2018 9 amendments.

10 The claims process to be administered by the experienced settlement administrator will 11 be even more straightforward and manageable than the one recently completed in connection 12 with the previous settlements. During that process, the discrete community of farmers who make 13 up the class submitted information about their sales during the relevant time period, which were 14 then used to calculate their share of the settlement proceeds. See, e.g., Hefler v. Wells Fargo &
15 Company, No. 16-CV-05479-JST, 2018 WL 6619983, at *12 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2018) 16 (approving pro rata settlement distribution based on the purchase and sales data provided by 17 class members); Thomas v. MagnaChip Semiconductor Corp., No. 14-CV-01160-JST, 2017 WL 18 4750628, at *8-9 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 20, 2017) (same). Class members were contacted through a 19 combination of direct mail and publication, and the notice administrator painstakingly verified 20 their identity and status as a Kona farmer. See Dkt. 600 (Supp. Decl. Jennifer Keough). This 21 time, Settlement Class Members who submitted claims will not even need to do so again, 22 because they have submitted the necessary information and the claims administrator has 23 reviewed, verified, and approved it. Settlement Class Members who did not previously make a 24 claim will still have an opportunity to do so this time. Accordingly, the prior claims process 25 provides a floor for direct payments to Settlement Class Members.

1 3. The terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including timing 2 of payment, will be reasonable.

3 Proposed Class Counsel will move the Court for an award of reasonable attorneys’ fees 4 and reimbursement of their litigation expenses that is squarely in line with Ninth Circuit 5 precedent. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(C)(iii). The total amount of fees requested will not exceed 25 6 percent of the monetary component of the settlements.² Class Counsel will also seek 7 reimbursement of $450,000 of litigation expenses, which represents only a portion of the 8 expenses they have incurred in this litigation to date (including those previously reimbursed).
 9 Class Counsel will file their fees and costs application, which will provide the supporting basis 10 for their request, sufficiently in advance of the Exclusion/Objection deadline, and it will be 11 available on the Settlement website after it is filed. Settlement Class Members will thus have the 12 opportunity to comment on or object under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h) prior to the Final Approval
 13 Hearing.³

14 D. The Proposal Treats Class Members Equitably Relative to Each Other.

15 The Settlement funds from these settlements will be distributed fairly and equitably. See 16 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(D). This subsection of Rule 23(e) determines “whether the 17 apportionment of relief among class members takes appropriate account of differences among 18 their claims, and whether the scope of the release may affect class members in different ways 19 that bear on the apportionment of relief.” Id. advisory committee’s note to 2018 amendments.
 20 Each member of the proposed Class will receive a pro rata share of the settlement based on the 21 volume of Kona coffee they sold during the limitations period. This allocation plan ensures 22 members of the proposed Class will receive meaningful compensation directly proportional to

23 _____
 24 ² The Court does not need to approve any specific fee amount before granting preliminary approval, only determine 25 whether the request raises any obvious red flags that would preclude settlement approval. But it bears emphasis that 26 counsel’s request is well within the norm for class settlements. When awarding attorney’s fees on the percentage of the fund method in common fund cases, twenty-five percent (25%) is the benchmark, but a court may adjust that benchmark up or down when warranted. See Powers v. Eichen, 229 F.3d 1249, 1256–57 (9th Cir. 2000).

³ Per Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(3), the parties have negotiated Supplemental Agreements described at paragraph 37 of the Kroger settlement agreement, and paragraph 30 of the Safeway/Albertsons settlement agreement.

1 the harm they suffered based on their actual sales. Additionally, Plaintiffs will request service 2 awards for each plaintiff farm (three in total), as are commonly awarded in class actions, and are 3 justified here by Plaintiffs' efforts in prosecuting the litigation. See, e.g., Durant v. State Farm
 4 Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., No.2-15-01710-RAJ, 2019 WL 2422592 at *2 (W.D. Wash. June 10, 2019)
 5 (approving $10,000 incentive award to plaintiff as part of final approval of class action); Carr v.
 6 United Health Care Serv., Inc., No.2:15-CV-1105, 2017 WL 11458425 at *3 (W.D. Wash. June 7 2, 2017) (approving incentive award); Hardie v. Countrywide, 2010 WL 3894377, at *2 (W.D.
 8 Wash. Sept. 30, 2010) (approving incentive award).

9 II. The Court will be able to certify the Class for settlement purposes upon final 10 approval.

11 Since December 2018, the court must determine if it will be likely to certify the class 12 prior to granting preliminary approval of the proposed class settlement. Fed. R. Civ. P.
 13 23(e)(1)(B)(ii); David v. Bankers Life and Cas. Co., No. 14-CV-00766-RSL, 2019 WL 2339971, 14 at *1 (W.D. Wash. June 3, 2019) (Lasnik, J.). Certification of a settlement class is “a two-step 15 process.” In re Volkswagen “Clean Diesel” Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prods. Liab. Litig., No.
 16 2672 CRB (JSC), 2016 WL 4010049, at *10 (N.D. Cal. July 26, 2016) (Breyer, J.) (citing 17 Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 613 (1997)). First, the Court must find that the 18 proposed settlement class satisfies Rule 23(a)'s four requirements. Id. (citing Fed. R. Civ. P.
 19 23(a)). Second, the Court must find that “a class action may be maintained under either 20 Rule 23(b)(1), (2), or (3).” Id. (citing Amchem, 521 U.S. at 613). The proposed Settlement Class 21 here readily satisfies all requirements of Rule 23(a), as well as those of Rule 23(b)(3). The 22 Settlement Class is identical to the one that the Court recently found meets the requirements of 23 Rule 23. See Dkt. 400 ¶ 3. Plaintiffs also recently set out, in the litigated context, why this case 24 is well suited to class treatment. See Dkt. 568.

25 A. The Settlement Class Meets Rule 23(a)'s Requirements.

26 Rule 23(a)(1): The Class is sufficiently numerous. Rule 23(a)(1) is satisfied where, as 1 here, “the class is so numerous that joinder of all class members is impracticable.” Fed. R. Civ.

2 P. 23(a)(1). A “class of 41 or more is usually sufficiently numerous.” 5 Moore’s Federal 3 Practice—Civil § 23.22 (2016); see also In re Banc of California Sec. Litig., 326 F.R.D. 640, 646
4 (C.D. Cal. 2018). Plaintiffs alleged that there are more than 600 members of the Settlement 5 Class, Third Am. Compl. ¶¶ 33, 43, Dkt. No. 381, and through discovery from third parties that 6 provide milling and processing services to a large proportion of the class, as well as through 7 class notice of the prior settlements, have confirmed the size of the class. See Dkt. 395; Dkt. 600 8 (Supp. Keough Decl.). Numerosity is satisfied.

9 Rule 23(a)(2): Common questions of law and fact are present. “Federal Rule of Civil 10 Procedure 23(a)(2) conditions class certification on demonstrating that members of the proposed 11 class share common ‘questions of law or fact.’” Stockwell v. City & Cnty. of San Francisco, 749 12 F.3d 1107, 1111 (9th Cir. 2014). Courts routinely find commonality where, as here, the class 13 claims arise from a defendant’s uniform course of conduct. Jama v. Golden Gate America, LLC, 14 No. 2:16-CV-00611-RSL, 2017 WL 7053650, at *1 (W.D. Wash. June 27, 2017) (Lasnik, J.).

15 Here, the Settlement Class’ claims are rooted in common questions of fact relating to 16 Defendants’ use of the “Kona” name. This Court has recognized that Plaintiffs alleged that 17 Defendants “falsely designated the geographic origin of their coffee as Kona,” that they misled 18 “consumers into believing their products contain an appreciable amount of Kona coffee beans in 19 order to use the reputation and goodwill of the Kona name to justify higher prices for what is 20 actually ordinary commodity coffee,” and that the alleged false designation “damages the 21 geographic designation itself and the designation’s value to the farmers of authentic Kona coffee 22 from the Kona District.” See Dkt. No. 155 at 2–3 (Order Denying Mot. to Dismiss). The answer 23 to the question of whether a defendant’s label does or does not contain a false designation of 24 origin will not vary among class members. This case thus presents common questions of fact that 25 would yield, if litigated, common answers “apt to drive the resolution of the litigation” for the 26 Settlement Class as a whole. Wal-Mart Stores v. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 350 (2011). See also Dkt.

1 568 (Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification), at 10. This common course of conduct satisfies 2 commonality.

3 Rule 23(a)(3): Settlement Class Representatives’ claims are typical of those of the 4 Class members’. Under Rule 23(a)(3), “the claims or defenses of the representative parties” 5 must be “typical of the claims or defenses of the class.” Parsons v. Ryan, 754 F.3d 657, 685 6 (9th Cir. 2014) (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3)). “Typicality ‘assure[s] that the interest of the 7 named representative aligns with the interests of the class.’” Id. (quoting Wolin v. Jaguar Land 8 Rover N. Am., LLC, 617 F.3d 1168, 1175 (9th Cir. 2010) (citation and quotations omitted)).
 9 Specifically, “representative claims are ‘typical’ if they are reasonably coextensive with those of 10 absent class members; they need not be substantially identical.” Id. (quoting Hanlon v. Chrysler 11 Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1020 (9th Cir. 1998)).

12 The Settlement Class Representatives’ claims are typical of other Settlement Class 13 Members’ claims; they assert the same claims under the Lanham Act. The Settlement Class 14 Representatives have alleged that a common course of conduct injured the Settlement Class 15 Representatives and the proposed Settlement Class in the same way. The Settlement Class 16 Representatives, like the members of the proposed Settlement Class, grew and sold authentic 17 Kona coffee, but they competed against suppliers and sellers of coffee labeled as “Kona” or 18 “Kona Blend” that in fact contained little or no appreciable amount of authentic Kona coffee.
 19 See Sec. Am. Compl. ¶ 33(c). Further, Plaintiffs alleged that the false designation of ordinary 20 commodity coffee as “Kona” coffee depressed the market price of authentic Kona coffee, which 21 negatively affected the price both the Settlement Class Representatives and Settlement Class 22 Members could receive for their Kona coffee. See Id. ¶ 3. Typicality is satisfied.

23 Rule 23(a)(4): The Settlement Class Representatives have and will protect the 24 interests of the Class. Rule 23(a)(4)’s adequacy requirement is met where, as here, “the 25 representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
 26 23(a)(4). Adequacy entails a two-prong inquiry: “(1) do the named plaintiffs and their counsel

1 have any conflicts of interest with other class members and (2) will the named plaintiffs and their 2 counsel prosecute the action vigorously on behalf of the class?” Evon v. Law Offices of Sidney
3 Mickell, 688 F.3d 1015, 1031 (9th Cir. 2012) (quoting Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020). Both prongs 4 are readily satisfied here.

5 First, the Settlement Class Representatives have no interests antagonistic to Settlement 6 Class Members and will continue to protect the Class’ interests in the implementation of the 7 settlement and in continuing litigation against the non-settling defendants, and there are no 8 conflicts of interest between the class representatives and members of the Settlement Class. See 9 Sampson v. Knight Transportation, Inc., No. C17-0028-JCC, 2020 WL 3050217, at *5 (W.D.
10 Wash. June 8, 2020) (“Plaintiffs’ claims . . . are uniform across the class members, thus the 11 Plaintiffs adequately represent the injuries of the putative class.”). The Class Representatives 12 “suffered the same injuries as other members” of the Class in the form of reduced market prices 13 and damage to goodwill and reputation. Id. The Class Representatives also understand their 14 duties, have agreed to consider the interests of absent Settlement Class Members, and have 15 reviewed and uniformly endorsed the Settlement terms. See Lichtman Decl. ¶ 20.

16 Second, proposed Class Counsel have and will continue to vigorously and ethically 17 pursue this litigation. See Wilbur v. City of Mount Vernon, 298 F.R.D. 665, 669 (W.D. Wash.
18 2012) (Lasnik, J.) (finding adequacy requirement satisfied and granting class certification). The 19 two firms serving as proposed Class Counsel bring a wealth of experience in complex civil 20 litigation and class actions, along with relevant expertise in intellectual property litigation. They 21 have and will continue to commit substantial resources to this case. See Lichtman Decl. ¶ 3.
22 Proposed Class Counsel have undertaken an enormous amount of work, including a pre-filing 23 scientific investigation, litigating dispositive motions, and extensive discovery to advocate for 24 the Class. Id. ¶ 11. They satisfy Rule 23(a)(4)’s adequacy requirement, as well as the standard 25 for appointment of class counsel under Rule 23(g).

1 B. The Settlement Class Meets Rule 23(b)(3)'s Requirements.

2 Rule 23(b)(3)'s requirements are also satisfied because (i) "questions of law or fact 3 common to class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members"; 4 and (ii) a class action is "superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently 5 adjudicating the controversy." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

6 Predominance. "The predominance inquiry 'asks whether the common, aggregation-7 enabling, issues in the case are more prevalent or important than the non-common, aggregation-8 defeating, individual issues.'" Tyson Foods, Inc. v. Bouaphakeo, 136 S. Ct. 1036, 1045 (2016).
9 The rule requires "a showing that questions common to the class predominate, not that those 10 questions will be answered, on the merits, in favor of the class." Amgen Inc. v. Conn. Ret. Plans 11 and Tr. Funds, 568 U.S. 455, 459 (2014). Thus, "[w]hen common questions present a significant 12 aspect of the case and they can be resolved for all members of the class in a single adjudication, 13 there is clear justification for handling the dispute on a representative rather than on an 14 individual basis." Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1022.

15 Here, common questions predominate because there are few, if any, individualized 16 factual issues, and because the core factual and legal questions involve the defendants' conduct: 17 (1) whether their labels were false or misleading; (2) whether those labels created or were likely 18 to create confusion among consumers; and (3) whether the conduct was willful. Questions of 19 damages are also common: these will turn on how much money defendants made by selling their 20 products and the extent to which conduct at issue negatively impacted the market price of 21 authentic Kona Coffee and/or damaged the goodwill and reputation of the Kona name. Common 22 questions predominate.

23 Superiority. Rule 23(b)(3)'s superiority requirement asks "whether the objectives of the 24 particular class action procedure will be achieved in the particular case." Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 25 1023. In other words, the court must "determine whether maintenance of this litigation as a class 26 action is efficient and whether it is fair." Wolin, 617 F.3d at 1175-76. Under Rule 23(b)(3), "the

1 Court evaluates whether a class action is a superior method of adjudicating plaintiff's claims by 2 evaluating four factors: '(1) the interest of each class member in individually controlling the 3 prosecution or defense of separate actions; (2) the extent and nature of any litigation concerning 4 the controversy already commenced by or against the class; (3) the desirability of concentrating 5 the litigation of the claims in the particular forum; and (4) the difficulties likely to be 6 encountered in the management of a class action.'" Trosper v. Styker Corp., 13-CV-0607-LHK 7 2014 WL 4145448, at *17 (N.D. Cal. August 21, 2014).

8 A class action is the superior method of adjudication of these claims. First, the 9 Settlement Class Members have little incentive to individually prosecute this action: the risks 10 and expense of proceeding individually are prohibitive in a case like this one, in which individual 11 damages are comparatively small in relation to the costs an individual plaintiff would have to 12 incur to prove liability and damages, which requires expert analysis from multiple fields. See 13 Just Film v. Buono, 847 F.3d 1108, 1123 (9th Cir. 2017) (affirming finding of superiority in case 14 where individual damages are too small "to make litigation cost effective in a case against 15 funded defenses and with a likely need for expert testimony"). Second, it is more efficient for 16 the parties and the Court to have a single resolution rather than individual cases about the same 17 issue. Without a class, the hundreds of individuals and entities that grow authentic Kona coffee 18 would have no recourse, or a multiplicity of suits would follow resulting in an inefficient and 19 possibly disparate administration of justice. By resolving these issues in one action, the Court 20 "will avoid the risk of duplicative efforts by multiple judges, as well as potentially inconsistent 21 rulings." McCluskey v. Trustees of Red Dot Corp. Emp. Stock Ownership Plan and Trust, 268 22 F.R.D. 670, 674 (W.D. Wash. 2010).

23 Finally, because this Court is considering the likelihood of class certification in the 24 settlement context, this Court need not consider any possible management-related problems as it 25 otherwise would. See Amchem Prods. Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997) ("Confronted 26 with a request for settlement-only class certification, a district court need not inquire whether the

1 case, if tried, would present intractable management problems, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3)(D), 2 for the proposal is that there be no trial.”). Superiority is met here, and Rule 23(e)(1)(B)(ii) is 3 satisfied.

4 III. The proposed notice plan should be approved.

5 Before a proposed class settlement may be finally approved, the Court “must direct notice 6 in a reasonable manner to all class members who would be bound by the proposal.” Fed. R. Civ.
 7 P. 23(e)(1). Where certification of a Rule 23(b)(3) settlement class is sought, the notice must 8 also comply with Rule 23(c)(2)(B), which requires:

9 the best notice that is practicable under the circumstances, 10 including individual notice to all members who can be identified 11 through reasonable effort. The notice may be by one or more of the 12 following: United States mail, electronic means, or other 13 appropriate means. The notice must clearly and concisely state in 14 plain, easily understood language: (i) the nature of the action; (ii) 15 the definition of the class certified; (iii) the class claims, issues, or defenses; (iv) that a class member may enter an appearance through an attorney if the member so desires; (v) that the court will exclude from the class any member who requests exclusion; (vi)
 the time and manner for requesting exclusion; and (vii) the binding effect of a class judgment on members under Rule 23(c)(3).

16 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B); see also Eisen v. Carlisle & Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156, 176 (1974).

17 The proposed Notice program here is identical to the ones that the Court previously 18 approved (Dkt. 400 and 414) and that Plaintiffs, with the Settlement Administrator, successfully 19 effectuated, including the follow-on claims process. Like the recently approved and 20 implemented program, it was designed in consultation with the proposed Settlement 21 Administrator and meets all applicable standards. See Ali v. Menzies Aviation, Inc., No. 2:16-22 CV-00262RSL, 2016 WL 4611542, at *4 (W.D. Wash. Sept. 6, 2016) (Lasnik, J.) (approving 23 form and plan of notice).

24 It will, in fact, be even more efficient and effective than the notice processes for the first 25 two sets of settlements. This is because, in the course of implementing the prior notice program, 26 the Settlement Administrator was able to refine an accurate list of addresses for Settlement Class

1 Members, and also verify the identity of Settlement Class Members who were not on the original 2 class list, but stepped forward to make claims after becoming aware of the settlements through 3 publication or otherwise.

4 In short, Class Counsel will again send direct notice to Settlement Class Members sent 5 via first class U.S. Mail for all members for whom address information is available (a list that 6 has, again, been refined and verified through implementation of the previous settlements), 7 publication notice in the newspaper widely read and circulated in the Kona region (the West 8 Hawaii Today), update the already existing settlement website—where Settlement Class 9 Members can view the full Settlement Agreements, the Notice, and other key case documents—10 and update the toll-free telephone number where Settlement Class Members can get additional 11 information. Moreover, the proposed forms of notice (Ex. 4 and Ex. 5) inform Settlement Class 12 Members, in clear and concise terms, about the nature of this case, the Settlements, and their 13 rights, including all of the information required by Rule 23(c)(2)(B).⁴ The notice also explains 14 the relationship between these settlements, the prior settlements, and the non-settling defendants 15 in the litigation. The Court should approve the proposed Notice program.

16 CONCLUSION

17 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant preliminary 18 approval of the proposed settlements, direct notice to the Settlement Class, and set a schedule for 19 the remaining steps towards final approval, as set out in the accompanying proposed order or as 20 the Court deems fit.

21
 22
 23
 24
 25 ⁴ As in the prior settlements, certain dates in the notices are tied to the date that this Court grants preliminary 26 approval of the proposed settlements and issuance of notice, as reflected in the accompanying proposed order.
 When those dates are known, the Settlement Administrator will fill in dates in the notices consistent with this Court's order.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON AT SEATTLE

BRUCE CORKER, et al., on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

COSTCO WHOLESALE
CORPORATION, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 2:19-CV-00290-RSL

[PROPOSED] ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY
APPROVAL OF CLASS SETTLEMENTS AND DIRECTING ISSUANCE OF NOTICE

The Honorable Robert S. Lasnik

1. Upon review and consideration of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Three Class Action Settlements (“Motion”), and all briefing, arguments, exhibits, and other evidence submitted in support thereof, including the agreements between Plaintiffs and The Kroger Co. (“Kroger”), between Plaintiffs and Safeway Inc. and Albertsons Companies Inc. (“Safeway/Albertsons”), and between Plaintiffs and Hawaiian Isles Kona Coffee Co., Ltd. (“HIKC”), (collectively referred to as “Settlement Agreements”)¹, executed by Bruce Corker d/b/a Rancho Aloha, Melanie Bondera and Melanie Bondera, husband and wife, d/b/a Kanalani Ohana Farm, and Robert Smith and Cecilia Smith, husband and wife, d/b/a Smithfarms, and Smithfarms LLC (“Plaintiffs”) and the respective settling Defendants (collectively “Parties”), for the purposes of the subject settlements, this Court finds that it has subject matter jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a) and federal question jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331.
2. The Court grants preliminarily approval of the Settlement Agreements based on the terms set forth in the Settlement Agreements.
3. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e), the Court finds that the proposed Settlement Class, ¹ Capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the same meaning as set forth in the Settlement Agreements.

1 composed of all persons and entities who farmed Kona coffee in the Kona District and then 2 sold their coffee from February 27, 2015 to the present, likely meets the requirements for 3 class certification under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a) and 23(b)(3) as follows:

- 4 a. The Settlement Class is so numerous that joinder of all members in a single 5 proceeding would be impracticable;
- 6 b. The members of the Settlement Class share common questions of law and fact;
- 7 c. The Plaintiffs' claims are typical of those of the Settlement Class Members;
- 8 d. The Plaintiffs and Settlement Class Counsel have fairly and adequately represented 9 the interests of the Settlement Class and will continue to do so; and
- 10 e. Questions of law and fact common to the Settlement Class predominate over the 11 questions affecting only individual Settlement Class Members, and certification of the 12 Settlement Class is superior to other available methods to the fair and efficient 13 adjudication of this controversy.

- 14 4. The Court finds, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)(B)(i), that the proposed Settlement 15 Agreements are likely fair, reasonable, and adequate, entered into in good faith, and free 16 from collusion; that Class Counsel have ably represented the Class; and, that the relief, 17 monetary and injunctive, provided for in the Settlement Agreements outweighs the 18 substantial costs, the delay, and risks presented by further prosecution of issues during pre-19 trial, trial, and possible appeal. Additionally, the proposed allocation plan treats Settlement 20 Class Members equitably. Based on these factors, the Court concludes that, pursuant to Fed.
21 R. Civ. P. 23(e), the Settlement Agreements meet the criteria for preliminary settlement 22 approval and are deemed fair, reasonable, and adequate, such that notice to the Settlement 23 Class is appropriate.
- 24 5. The Court appoints Nathan Paine, of Karr Tuttle Campbell, and Jason Lichtman, Daniel 25 Seltz, and Andrew Kaufman, of Lief Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP as Settlement 26 Class Counsel upon consideration of the factors set forth in Fed. Riv. Civ. P. 23(g).

1 6. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)² and 23(c)(2)(B), the Court approves, as to form and 2 content:

3 a. The proposed Notice (“Notice”), in substantially the form attached as Exhibit 4 with 4 Plaintiffs’ Motion. The Court finds that Notice is a reasonable method calculated to 5 reach members of the Settlement Class who would be bound by the Settlement 6 Agreements. The Notice will be sent via First Class U.S. Mail to all members for 7 whom address information is available, and posted on the Settlement Website, 8 www.KonaCoffeeSettlement.com.

9 b. The Publication Notice, in substantially the form attached as Exhibit 5 with Plaintiffs’ 10 Motion, which will be published in the West Hawaii Daily. The Court approves, as to 11 form and content, the proposed Notice and Publication Notice because they concisely 12 state in plain, easily understood language, inter alia: (1) the nature of the Corker case 13 and the Settlement Agreements, including the terms thereof; (2) the definition of the 14 Settlement Class; (3) the Plaintiffs’ applications for service awards; (4) that a 15 Settlement Class Member may enter an appearance on their own behalf or through an 16 attorney and the procedures for filing an objection to the Settlement Agreements; (5) 17 contact information for Settlement Class Counsel, and a toll-free number to ask 18 questions about the Settlement Agreements; (6) the address of the case-specific 19 website (the “Settlement Website”) maintained by the Settlement Administrator that 20 links to important case documents, including motion for preliminary approval papers, 21 and instructions on how to access the case docket via PACER or in person; (7) 22 important dates in the settlement approval process, including the date of the Final 23 Approval Hearing (as described below); (8) the binding effect of a class judgment on 24 _____

25 ² Specifically, pursuant to 23(e)(1)(B), the Court finds that notice can be directed “in a reasonable manner to all 26 class members who would be bound by the proposal if giving notice is justified by the parties’ showing that the court will likely be able to: (i) approve the proposal under Rule 23(e)(2); and (ii) certify the class for purposes of judgment on the proposal.”

1 Settlement Class Members; and (9) Settlement Class Counsel's forthcoming motion 2 for fees and/or reimbursement of expenses.

3 7. The Court appoints JND Legal Administration as Settlement Administrator.

4 8. The Court finds that the Notice meets the requirements of due process under the U.S.
5 Constitution and Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.

6 9. The Court directs:

7 a. The mailing of Settlement Class notice by First Class U.S. Mail and publication in 8 the West Hawaii Today, shall begin within 21 days of the entry of this Order.

9 b. No later than 21 days after entry of this Order, the Settlement Administrator shall 10 update the Settlement Website. Specifically, the Settlement Website shall (1) post the 11 Settlement Agreements and Notice; (2) notify Settlement Class Members of their 12 rights to object or opt-out; (3) inform Settlement Class Members that they should 13 monitor the Settlement Website for developments; and (4) notify Settlement Class 14 Members that no further notice will be provided to them once the Court enters the 15 Final Order and Judgment, other than updates on the Settlement Website.

16 c. The Settlement Administrator shall continue to maintain an email account and P.O.
17 Box to which Settlement Class Members may submit questions regarding the 18 Settlement Agreements. The Settlement Administrator will monitor the email account 19 and P.O. Box and respond promptly to administrative inquiries from Settlement Class 20 Members and direct new substantive inquiries to Settlement Class Counsel.

21 d. No later than 21 days after entry of this Order, the Settlement Administrator shall 22 update the toll-free telephone number that Settlement Class Members can call to 23 receive additional information about the Settlement Agreements. The toll-free number 24 shall be operational until at least the effective date of the Settlement Agreements.

25 10. All costs associated with implementing Notice, including fees and costs of the Settlement 26 Administrator, shall be paid out of the Settlement Funds.

- 1 11. No later than 63 days after entry of this Order, Settlement Class Counsel shall file its 2 application for attorneys’ fees and/or expenses and Plaintiffs’ request for service awards.
 3 12. No later than 14 days before the Final Approval Hearing, the Settlement Administrator shall 4 file an affidavit with the Court confirming its implementation of Notice in accordance with 5 this Order.
 6 13. Any Settlement Class Member may comment on, or object to, the Settlement Agreements, 7 Settlement Class Counsel’s application for attorneys’ fees and costs, and/or the request for 8 Plaintiffs’ service awards.
 9 14. The following chart summarizes the dates and deadlines set by this Order:
